Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a medieval manuscript. The text is written in black ink on aged, slightly discolored paper. There are two prominent red ink markings, possibly indicating folio numbers or section markers, which appear to be "265" and "266". The script is dense and flowing, characteristic of late Gothic or early modern cursive. The text is arranged in several lines, with some lines starting with a large initial letter. The overall appearance is that of a historical document, possibly a letter or a page from a book.
